HELD UP VETO ON STATE BILL

Democrats Want All Their Members Present.

KENTUCKIANS ARE AT HOME

Go to Help Party Nominate State Ticket, but Will Be Back in Time to Vote to Pass Bill Over President's Veto—Cabinet Meets and Goes Over Taft's Message and Then Sends Revised Copy to Government Printing Office.

Washington, Aug. 15.—At the present time President Taft is ahead of his part in the veto fights which will end the present session of congress. The statehood veto message has been printed. The veto message has been written in an outline form and could be completed with a day's work. Material has been prepared for a veto message to the free list bill.

Only the decision of the house democrats to postpone a vote on the statehood veto message until after the return of the democratic mem-

Killed By Playmates

Cleveland Lads Play Wild West With Fatal Results.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 15.—While playing "wild west" William Friel, 12, was shot and instantly killed by his playmate, Clifford Loucks, 14.

Young Loucks, "the bandit" ordered Friel, the "lone stage driver," to throw up his hands. Friel refused and Loucks pulled the trigger, the bullet entering young Friel's head and penetrating the back of the skull.

According to the police Loucks admitted he knew the gun was loaded, but said: "Billy should have thrown his hands."

The Typos Deliberate In San Francisco City

JAMES M. LYNCH

Lynch Predicts New Agreement With Publishers.

San Francisco, Aug. 15.—When President James M. Lynch called the fifty-seventh annual convention to order, what promises to be the most momentous session in the history of the International Typographical union began. Discussion aroused by the McNamara case and the expiration next spring of the arbitral agreement with the American Newspaper association, are the principal topics.

President Lynch is confident there will be no difficulty in reaching an amicable agreement with the publishers. The latter propose that the new arbitration agreement shall extend for five years from May 1, 1912, when the present agreement expires. The terms of the proposed new agreement do not differ radically from the present one, it is said.

President Lynch in his report will make special reference to the attitude of the typographical union toward the destruction of the Los Angeles Times, and it is also believed steps will be taken to raise funds for the McNamaras.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RESENTS SLIGHT DISMAY IN RANKS

Lightning Strikes Players' Bench

Ten Severely Injured at Cambridge Ball Game.

BOUGHT REFUGE FROM STORM

Terrific Electrical Display Takes Place as United Presbyterian and Methodist Teams of Cambridge (O.) City Baseball League Begin to Play—Spectators and Players Rush For Crowded Grandstand—Ten on Players' Bench Knocked Senseless.

Cambridge, O., Aug. 15.—During a fierce electrical storm lightning struck the wire netting of the grandstand at the city ball park and injured a number of players and spectators who sought refuge on a players' bench beneath the stand. The contesting teams represented the Methodist and United Presbyterian churches in the city league.

Ten men in all were shocked, and not much hope is held out for the recovery of any of the ten.

The spectators in the grandstand were panic-stricken when the bolt struck, believing their friends, who were huddled on a bench alongside the wire netting, had been instantly killed. Dr. DeHart, a dentist, had no scar on his body, but was unable to stand on his feet, which appeared paralyzed.

Those probably fatally injured were: Warner B. Bratton, Dr. Walter DeHart, Will Upton, Walter Braden, Kirk Braden and James Barker. Physicians are attending to the injured.

Refuses to Speak From Platform Occupied By Bryan.

NEBRASKAN IN GAME TO STAY

In Speech at Columbus Declares He Will Fight Until Plutocrats Are Driven From Throne—Lauds Initiative and Referendum to Friends at Home of Harvey Garber—is Given Small Boom For Presidential Nomination by Enthusiasts.

Columbus, O., Aug. 15.—Resenting the utterances of Mr. Bryan that indicated that he was fighting Governor Harrison, Attorney General Hogan refused to speak at the night meeting of the Jefferson club's barbecue at Olentangy park. His declaration of his stand on the subject created surprise among politicians and consternation among Jefferson club officials.

In his speech Colonel W. J. Bryan said: "My business is politics. I intend to devote my life to driving plutocracy from the throne and putting the rights of man in the seat. I shall spend my time between now and the nomination to finding out things about the candidates and telling the people. I haven't a friend in the United States whom I would reward at the expense of my party or my country."

A large portion of his speech was consumed in tracing the growth of Democracy, particularly the advances it has made within the past six years in China, Russia, Persia, Turkey and Great Britain.

Shouts of "Bryan for president in 1912," "Bryan again," "Bryan," "Bryan," were echoed by hundreds as the commoner reached the climax of his speech at the park.

Colonel Bryan on his arrival went to the home of National Committeeman Harvey C. Garber. M. L. Boyd, president of the Jefferson club, under whose auspices Bryan spoke at Olentangy, carried his valise.

Adopted by Eight States.

"The initiative and referendum," said Colonel Bryan, at the Garber home, "is one of the growing reforms of this country and one of the most popular reforms before any state. I have no doubt that it will be adopted sooner or later in all the states."

Colonel Bryan showed a good deal of interest in Ohio's coming constitutional convention. His observations on the initiative and referendum were in connection with a discussion of the convention.

"Eight states have already adopted the initiative and referendum," he continued, "and it has been submitted in at least two others, California and Nebraska. The chief advantage of the initiative and referendum is that it provides for the separate submission of questions to the people and thereby makes it possible for each question to be settled on its merits. I am most heartily in favor of it."

Colonel Bryan talked with the newspaper men about a variety of public questions. Only one did he shy from, and that related to the choice by the next Democratic national convention of a candidate for president. He adhered to his oft-repeated determination not to discuss Governor Harmon's candidacy while in Ohio.

"I am not ready to discuss individuals," said Bryan. "However, I do think that the Democratic party is especially fortunate in having in its ranks at this time so many men who are conspicuous enough to be considered presidential timber."

"Nobody can speak on the question of a party platform until the present congress gets through, because the issues may depend on what this congress does. Many questions may be out of the way before adjournment, particularly the direct election of United States senators and the campaign publicity matters."

Prices Soar; Trade Falls.

New York, Aug. 15.—Rising prices of meats reached a new high record for the season here with an advance that boosted prices 4 cents above those prevailing a fortnight ago. Retail dealers report heavy falling off in trade, due, they say, to the high prices.

JOHN P. MALLOY

Prominent Republican Politician Dies In Columbus.

DEATH CLAIMS A NOTED POLITICIAN

John R. Malloy Passes Away After Year's Illness.

Columbus, O., Aug. 15.—After a lingering illness of more than a year John R. Malloy, former clerk of the Ohio senate, well-known Republican politician and former newspaper man, died of Bright's disease at home here.

Mr. Malloy was known politically throughout the United States and had taken prominent parts in several national conventions. He served the state in many capacities and was an impressive figure about the state house for 30 years.

He had been cut of public service only since January, when the complexion of the state senate changed and a Democrat replaced him as clerk. Prior to that he had served as clerk to the house of representatives and also on appointive board positions. His close attention to his duties is attributed by many to have been the primary cause of his fatal illness.

Rioting Resumed In England

Troops Fire Upon Mob In Streets of Liverpool.

London, Aug. 15.—The strike fever is still prevalent in various parts of the United Kingdom. Conditions are worst in Liverpool, London and Manchester. Conditions here seem to have grown better, but the demand of the dock workers for pay for their meal time and their refusal to work with nonunion truck drivers makes matters still critical.

The only serious disturbances took place at Liverpool, where the military fired into a mob of hooligans on the streets and then charged them with fixed bayonets. The number of casualties has not yet been reported.

"I never hear you kicking at the mail service."

"No; my poems come back promptly enough."—Pittsburg Post.

Aquatic Sports More Popular This Year Than Ever Before

SWIMMING and other aquatic sports are becoming more popular all over the country, and in regions where there are lakes or rivers and along the sea coast there have been numerous contests this summer in which noted swimmers have taken part. T. H. Robinson of Princeton, who won the 440 yard dash in the intercollegiate contest at Sheephead Bay, doing the distance in 6 minutes 53 seconds, five seconds better than the record, is shown in the foreground. The picture also shows a contestant for high diving honors. In judging this contest the clean manner in which the athlete enters the water is taken into consideration.

Aviator Lands Safely In Chicago With Record

Atwood Has Remarkable Luck In Distance Flight.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—Driving his Burgess biplane from Springfield, Aviator Henry N. Atwood reached Chicago and landed in front of the judges' stand at Grant park, where the international aviation meet was in progress. This concluded the first day of the St. Louis-Chicago-New York flight.

Atwood's flight was almost devoid of incident. He had no half-breath escapes, did not even break a wire of his machine. The machine is not a fast one. It is a touring plane which runs at from 45 to 50 miles an hour, but faster when the wind helps it. In spite of this his running time between points was always faster than the swiftest express trains, while his time from downtown St. Louis including his two long stops on the way, was only one and one-half hours slower than the fastest train.

Without goggles, gloves or overalls, but dressed neatly in a Norfolk traveling suit, Atwood said on his arrival in Chicago that the trip had been a very pleasant one. He enjoyed it. Travelers to Chicago by train found the trip hot and dusty.

Atwood received $500 for alighting at Grant park aviation course. This is the sum allowed to all aviators who take part in the meet, for expenses. The meet association would offer no other inducement to Atwood to land there. In prizes alone in passing over cities and in stops Atwood will earn about $25,000 if he arrives at Coney Island by Aug. 26, $10,000 of the amount being provided there.

Explosion In Vatican Disturbed Quiet

Gas Pipe Lets Go With Noise Resembling Bomb.

Rome, Aug. 15.—The usual quiet of the vatican was disturbed by a loud explosion, and at first it was thought a bomb had been set off. Investigation showed that the report was due to the bursting of a gas pipe, caused by the carelessness of a cleaner.

Much comment has been caused by the publication of the regulations which are to govern the election of the pope's successor. The statement is made that any cardinal attending the conclave who shall accept any charge from any person or government that claims the right to veto the choice of a pope shall be excommunicated. In other words, Pius X claims that the veto is abolished. Otherwise the regulations governing the election of a pope are the same as formerly.

Washington Men Show Reclaiming Dismal Swamp

According to the Weekly Advance, published at Moyock, N. C., the Washington colony at the place, H. C. Hosier, A. B. Lukins and others, are certainly doing things in the dismal swamp section.

In a long and well-written article on "Draining in Currituck," the mammoth new dredge installed by the Carolina Land and Lumber Co., and its work in digging canals and ditches through the land is graphically described.

The land underlying the waters of the swamp has been proved to be of great fertility and it is the aim of that company to drain the poisonous water off the land, so that the men may work in removing the valuable timber, leaving the rich agriculture land for the market.

Enormous as the expenditures have been the company has great prospects of big profits in the timber and land which will be placed on the market.

Cornhuskers Go On Strike

The Sears & Nichols Canning factory in Chillicothe was the scene of a strike a few days ago, when 120 huskers struck for higher wages, and succeeded in receiving the promise of better wages after two hours' "walkout." The ring leaders were discharged, however. The price is said to have run from $1.75 to $2.50 per day, but the men were not satisfied.

An Appreciated Compliment

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Editor Washington Daily Herald:

Your recent editorials on harmony among office holders of our city, and on the reckless driving of automobiles, deserve all praise.

A vigorous editorial column in our city daily can do more to conserve and formulate good public opinion than almost any other influence. In these editorials you have shown a great public need, and have pointed out the remedies in no uncertain words.

People are reading what you have to say and will not forget when they come to vote this fall for men to fill our various city offices. All your editorials are good, and are filling a long-felt want, and everybody is hoping you will devote more space to the criticism and encouragement of home affairs.

Whenever men elected to perform a public duty collude together and refuse to do any of the things necessary for the good of the community, condemnation should follow, and the whole truth should be given the people. As an illustration, the action of the city council in refusing the trustees of the City Library any funds to make repairs and preserve the library building from ruin, is reason enough for rejecting at the coming election of very man in the council who so voted, and who is today again seeking re-election to that office.

And on the other hand, when we have an official who has fearlessly performed the duties of his office, and has reflected credit, and by his impartial administration of his office, has caused the laws to be enforced and obeyed by rich and poor alike, an independent daily press taking the high stand that the Daily Herald has taken, will lose nothing by giving credit due and standing boldly for the retention of such official or officials.

We all want to see our city continue to grow and prosper, and to see the right kind of men elected to perform civic duties and we shall continue to look to the Daily Herald to help and to lead the way.

Lightning Bolt Shatters Screen

Lightning played an unusual prank at the residence of Samuel Wilson on Lakeview avenue, Millwood, Sunday evening during the storm, when it struck the rear screen door and shattered it, doing no other damage so far as can be learned.

At the time the bolt fell, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson were on the front veranda, but outside of a sharp, stinging sensation, they were uninjured.

WORDS OF HIGH PRAISE FOR BOYS OF COMPANY M FROM REGIMENT COMMANDER

The Fourth Regiment, O. N. G., of which Company M of this city is a part, has received flattering words from those who inspected the boys at Camp Perry week before last, and Major Allen is in receipt of a communication from O. N. G. headquarters, sent out by order of Col. Byron L. Barger, which says:

"Both officers and men of the regiment are to be congratulated for the excellent showing recently made at Camp Perry. The superiority of the regiment in efficiency has been demonstrated.

"The regimental commander takes this means in communicating the substance of the many favorable opinions which have been voiced by all inspectors, both regular and National Guard. Both officers and men should feel repaid, for their hard work at Camp Perry in the realization of the fact that they have established a new record for regimental efficiency in the National Guard."

Company M is apparently one of the favored companies in the state of Ohio, and probably more men have been detailed for guard service at the Ohio State Fair, than from any other company. One man from each company in the state has been detailed for service at the fair, but four men have been detailed from Company M. These men are Pearl Smith, Fred Cripps, Robert C. Hays

Veto Held Up on State Bill

bers of the Kentucky delegation from the Democratic state convention is now blocking the beginning of the final struggle. About the first news that was forwarded to Mr. Taft upon his return from Beverly was that the Democrats of the house, out of courtesy to the Kentucky Democrats, had told Representative James and his colleagues that they might depart in peace to their home for the week and that they would guard against veto votes while they were gone. Had it not been for this and had there appeared any chance for action, Mr. Taft could have rushed his statehood veto through to the house.

A special session of the cabinet was called to consider the statehood veto which Mr. Taft had prepared while in Beverly. They were in conference on it for about three hours, after which it was sent out to the stenographers for revision and to the government printing office. The message is about 4,000 words long. It probably will be sent to congress today.

Gov. Tener Takes Warpath

Determined to Punish All of Pennsylvania's Negro Burners.

New York, Aug. 15.—Governor John T. Tener of Pennsylvania has ordered a searching investigation into the death of Zachary Walker, a negro, who was burned at the stake after a mob of a thousand persons had forced their way into the hospital at Conestoga, Pa., and dragged the wounded victim from his cot.

"This outrage by citizens of Pennsylvania is one of the most terrible that I have ever heard of," said the governor at the Waldorf. "I have ordered the state constabulary to the scene and after I am in possession of all the facts I shall see that proper action is promptly taken."

Pensacola, Fla., Aug. 15.—Escaping from a turpentine convict camp near Middlesburg, Fla., W. F. The fugitive was killed by the son as he lay upon the ground in a critical condition. Williams' head was blown almost off by a double charge of buckshot.

WIFE-BEATER IS STUNG SIX MONTHS IN WORKHOUSE AND $100 FINE—THAT'S ALL

Charged with wife-beating, and alleged to have drawn a loaded revolver and threatening to kill his wife, Bush Allen of John street was arraigned before Mayor Allen Tuesday morning, plead guilty to the charge against him, and was given $100 and costs and sentenced to the workhouse for a term of six months.

Not being able to pay the fine, Allen was taken to the workhouse on the 4 o'clock train, Noah Bell acting as escort.

The trouble occurred Monday night when it is alleged that Allen had a little too much bootleg whiskey tucked under his waistband, and attacked his wife, who was formerly a resident of Jeffersonville, and whose maiden name was Mabra. Mrs. Allen is in a delicate condition, and the actions of her husband greatly excited her and she was in fear of her life.

She claims that he pulled a revolver and pointing it at her head threatened to blow out her brains. When Officer Haggard was dispatched to bring Allen in he also brought the gun, a 32-calibre, which Allen had left at the house. He was found at a blacksmith shop in the city, where he has been employed.

Allen and his wife formerly lived in Kentucky, but he is alleged to have treated his wife so badly that she left him and came to the city in January. Allen followed and they have lived together since. Allen accused his wife of misconduct during the trouble, but when before Mayor Allen admitted that he had lied about it.

Allen and his wife are both colored.

THE RACE A GOOD ONE.

The State Fair Boys Fighting—Governor Harmon Will Visit Their Camp.

Fifteen hundred ambitious boys coming down the home-stretch is the best way to describe the great Boys' Race for the Free Trip to the Ohio State Fair. The old folks, preachers, teachers, politicians, Granges, Sunday schools, Christians and sinners are becoming involved in some counties. Even congressmen and federal officials at Washington are writing letters for their favorites. Some of the boy candidates are inducing their fathers to trade votes at the coming primary elections to nominate township officers, in order to secure votes for the State Fair Trip. Some of the boys are making a quiet but effective canvass by personal visits and writing letters.

Every boy has an equal chance. Entries are open until 10 o'clock Monday, August 19, at which time all applications must be in the hands of the president of the Board of County Commissioners, or if he is not in his office to be left with the County Auditor. The presidents of all independent farmer institutions, regular farmer picnics, pioneer picnics, county corn improvement associations, county poultry associations, county horticultural associations are included in the meaning of "all other county agricultural organizations," as prescribed by the rules. It costs the boy nothing to try. Good care will be taken of him. Governor Harmon will visit the Boys' Model Camp, which will be near the National Guard Camp on the ground. No voting by proxy will be allowed. The boys must get their friends to attend and vote in person. No person can cast more than one vote. Hundreds of letters are being received asking that rules be changed. This is useless. Some letters come unsigned or badly written. Two alternates are to be chosen who will come in turn if the boy ahead of him cannot come. Letters addressed to the boys in care of the Boys' Camp, State Fair Grounds, will be promptly delivered to them.

THE LADIES' STATE FAIR.

Monday, August 28, will be Ladies' Free Day at the Big Fair. Hundreds will come and stay for several days after that. The increased premiums for exhibits in the Woman's Building will make that vast hall a fairy-land this year. It will be decorated and ornamented as never before. The ladies will find a thousand things to please and instruct them. The Art Hall will contain art treasures never before seen upon a fair ground in Ohio. Many of the city artists will compete this year. The entries indicate that the display of china painting will excel in both quantity and quality.

THE STATE EXHIBITS.

Almost every State Department will let the people see what part of the State's work it is doing. These exhibits will be instructive. They will be attractive. Citizens can gain some idea for what purposes the public money is expended. The work of the State Veterinarian, the Nursery and Orchard Inspector and the Department of Agriculture in general will be shown along with other exhibits. The Federal government at Washington will co-operate with the State Highway Commissioner in making one of the most unique and interesting exhibits. This will be the first time the government has participated in a State Fair. All Ohio Congressmen and Senators joined in the request for Uncle Sam to do this.

ALL RECORDS BROKEN.

State Fair Outgrows the Grounds. Overflow Exhibits in All Departments.

All classes of citizens seem to have united to make the State Fair of 1911 a record breaker. Every department has made a new mark. Entries closed last week, Saturday, with overflow exhibits. The State Fair has absolutely outgrown its grounds. Space entries were refused from necessity. For the first time in the history of the State House had to be secured to accommodate the large force of clerks necessary to keep up with the increased volume of business incident to the growth of Ohio's great Industrial Exposition.

Exhibitors have come to realize that prospective buyers would rather purchase from those who are not afraid to show in competition with business competitors.

The State Fair managers are gratified at the great interest shown by many persons who have not heretofore been active and open in boosting the fair. The farmers have always been patrons of the fair, but this year the grain dealers, millers, bankers, teachers, granges, church workers, and many others are unusually active. Railroads will make greater efforts to accommodate their passengers than heretofore. Some railroads are sending out thousands of letters and circulars urging citizens along their line to attend and are scheduling trains for the express convenience of State Fair visitors.

LIVE STOCK SHOW.

There is new life and ambition among Ohio and middle west breeders. The ribbons taken in the Columbus Show Ring have a greater value than those won elsewhere. The ambitious owner of a good animal is conscious of the fact that if he wins at the Ohio State Fair, he has established his standing as a breeder and can obtain good prices. It is this enviable position which Ohio has won that has made our Capital City the undisputed Battle Ground of the Breeds.

The foremost breeders of many states have entered and the battle will be fought to the finish. The best judges in the United States will award the premiums.

GAINING CONFIDENCE.

The State Fair is growing in favor and gaining the confidence of the best citizens. Men prominent in financial circles, industrial enterprises, railroad managers, trades and professions are lending a helping hand to a good cause. The strength and real wealth of the state and nation must come out of the ground. Every person who wants the world to become better and methods improved ought to see the State Fair.

THE CITIES ARE TAKING NOTICE

With an increased population and a decreased food production and the high cost of living going higher the cities are taking notice of the importance of agriculture. The farmer will have sufficient unto himself, while those in the city may be in want and hunger if the farm fails to produce enough garden sassa to go round. Out on the farm there will be 'taters in the cellar, meat in the smokehouse, eggs in the nest, and milk in the picher, when some of the cupboards in the great city will be like Old Mother Hubbard's—not even a bone. Those who live in cities can well afford to attend and support the State Fair and all other occasions that tend to help the cause of agriculture.

Why not win one of them? You can if you will. The OHIO STATE REGISTER and WASHINGTON DAILY HERALD have offered the opportunity. They have done their part. Will you do yours?

First Grand Prize

$600 Schaff Bros. Player Piano

The first prize in the contest will be a $600 Schaff Bros. Player Piano, and it will be given to the contestant who receives the most votes during the contest.

This Instrument was purchased of J. A. Smalley, the local piano dealer, and will be on exhibition in the storeroom on West Court street next door to the T. C. DeWees gallery.

The WARRANTY on this superb instrument is absolutely UNLIMITED, and the winner of this beautiful prize can rest assured that he or she will receive an instrument that will stand the test of time.

The case is of double veneered mahogany, lined with maple. The carvings are all done by hand and are very artistic. It is the most simply constructed player on the market, one lever acting for the tempo, start, stop and rewind. The tone of this instrument has strength of character and individuality, expressed by its great volume and artistic quality. Through reason of the careful manufacture this instrument is durable; it has lasting qualities, the ability to stay in tune and to retain its initial tone.

This prize will beautify any home in Fayette county and the fortunate winner can always look upon it with pride. Call at Smalley's store on West Court street, next door to T. C. DeWees' photograph gallery, after next Tuesday, and examine this prize.

Second Grand Prize

$265 Link & Son Piano.

The second prize in the contest will be a $265.00 H. Link & Son Upright Piano. This instrument is manufactured by the Schaff Bros., of Chicago, Ills., and Huntington, Ind., and is named after Mr. Link, who for many years was the general manager, secretary and treasurer of the Schaff Bros. Co., which is one of the oldest and wealthiest companies manufacturing Pianos in America.

The case of this instrument is of double veneered mahogany, and lined inside with maple. The action is light and so perfectly balanced that the slightest touch will meet with instant response. The tone has strength and is soft, mellow and sympathetic.

This Piano has many good features that are to be found in no other Piano, and which makes it known the world over as an instrument of quality.

It was purchased of J. A. Smalley, and will be on exhibition at the store room next door to the DeWeese photograph gallery in a very few days. Call there and see the splendid prize and be convinced that it is exactly as advertised.

DISTRICT FIRST PRIZE

$200 Bed Room Suite

In Circassian Walnut, consisting of one standard sized Dresser, one Chiffonier with five large drawers, and one Bed with the new style roll top head and foot boards.

This suite would adorn a palace. It is a prize that will stand the test of time. It will ever be a thing of beauty, fit to hand down to children and grandchildren as an heirloom of Twentieth Century art.

This prize can be seen at the store of The Fayette County Hardware Co., where it was purchased. This firm's well known reputation for square dealing is a sufficient guarantee that this beautiful prize is all that is claimed for it.

DISTRICT SECOND PRIZE

$40 HAVILAND CHINA DINNER SET

This eighty-piece genuine Haviland China Dinner Set, which was purchased of S. S. Cockerill & Son, will be awarded as the District Second Prize.

Haviland & Co., the makers of this beautiful ware, and S. S. Cockerill & Son, the local dealers, guarantee each piece in this set to be absolutely perfect in every way. Each piece bears two stamps. The green one shows that the body of the article was made by Haviland & Co., while the red stamp is a guarantee that the decorations are also a work of this wonderful factory. When examining these dishes please note that they bear both the green and red stamps.

This ware is beautifully decorated in gold, and each piece has been kept free from water so that the monogram of the owner may be put on if desired. The set consists of the following articles: 12 Dinner Plates, 12 Pie Plates, 12 B. and B. Plates, 12 Teas and Sauces, 12 Fruit Saucers, 1 meat Platter, 1 Footed Salad Dish, 1 Baker, 1 Sauce Boat, 1 Covered Sugar and 1 Creamer, forming a prize that will not only be appreciated by the winner and admired by all her friends, but that is as good as money will buy.

DISTRICT FIRST PRIZE

$125 Diamond Ring

This ring was purchased at the store of C. A. Gossard & Co, who guarantee it to be a pure and flawless stone. If C. A. Gossard & Co. added not one word of assurance, this beautiful little gem would speak for itself.

The perfect color, correct cut and proportion give it the scintillating brilliancy that comes only in the perfect stone. It is a gem no better than which adorns the hand of royalty—it is a prize that any young lady may well strive for.

To the energetic woman who wins it, this beautiful gem will be as a legacy in the bank. Its value is eternal and can never grow less. The person who wins this prize is not required to take the ring which we have selected, but CAN HAVE THE CHOICE OF ALL $125 DIAMONDS in the store of C. A. Gossard & Co.

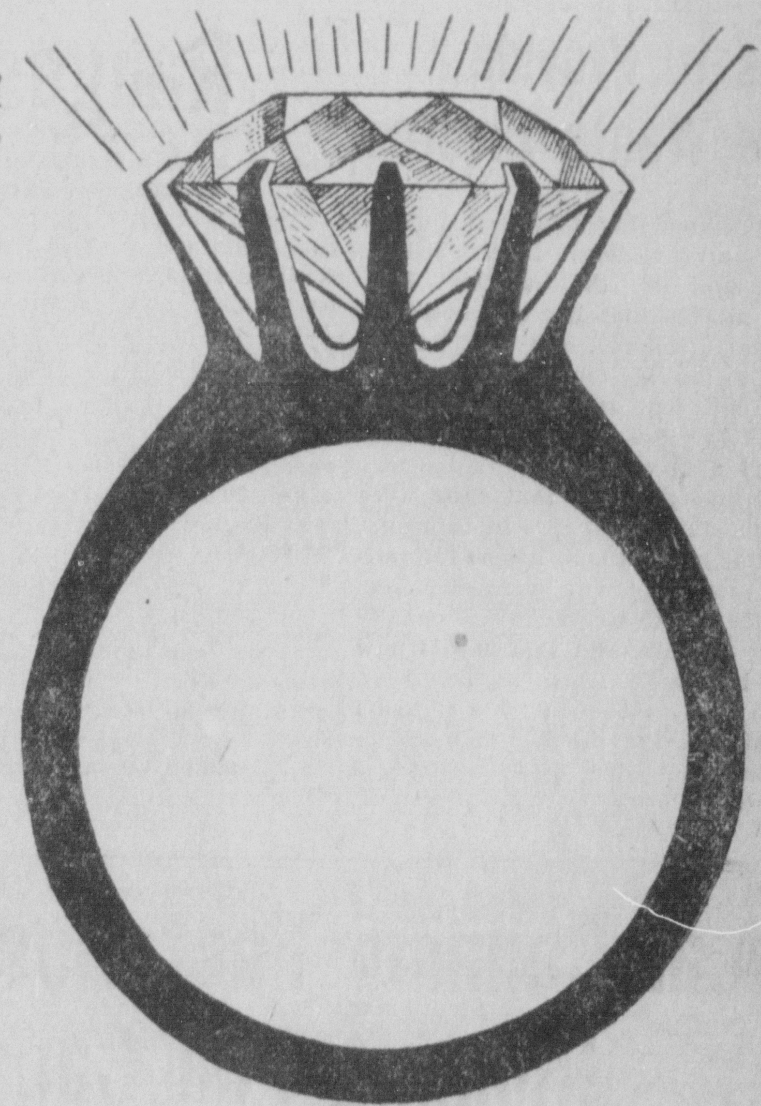

DISTRICT SECOND PRIZE

$75.00 Diamond Ring

This stone, purchased of W. H. Hettesheimer, Jeweler, is not quite as large as the diamond offered as the District First Prize, but it a good sized gem, perfect in color and absolutely flawless. It has a Tiffany setting, and will make a splendid prize for some worthy young lady.

W. H. Hettesheimer guarantees this ring to be exactly as it is here advertised, and the person who wins it can have their CHOICE OF $75 DIAMONDS IN HETTESHEIMER'S store.

Young ladies, here is a chance to secure that coveted diamond. Perhaps you may never have the opportunity of getting another. Some person is going to be the proud possessor of this valuable prize. Why not you? It will not cost you a cent.

Texas Booming Harmon

Take No Heed to Legislator's Objection to Ohioan's Picture on Wall.

Austin, Tex., Aug. 15.—Something of a stir was created in the senate when Senator McNeal of Dallas moved that the sergeant-at-arms be instructed to remove a picture of Governor Harmon of Ohio, which had been pasted on the announcement blackboard in the chamber. An inscription on the bottom of the picture set forth that the likeness was that of a man who would probably be the next president of the United States.

Lieutenant Governor Davidson, presiding, announced that if the senator would withdraw his resolution he (Davidson) would instruct the sergeant-at-arms to remove the picture, which was done.

A state mass meeting of Democrats called for the purpose of starting a Texas boom for Governor Harmon for president was held here, and was attended by about 75 men from over the state.

FIVE AVIATORS FALL ONE STRUCK WIRES TURNED OVER COMPLETELY

Not One Hurt During Flights at Chicago Meet.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—At the aviation meet five accidents occurred, as follows: Howard Gill was 600 feet in the air with propeller chain caught in its tubing, wobbling the machine until it nearly careened. Gill glided to the earth. Lee Hammond fell into Lake Michigan after completing a lap and a half of the over-water race. Hewas unhurt. J. A. D. McCurdy struck the electric light wires, turned upside down and was thrown to the ground, but was unhurt. Earl Ovington smashed his wing against the ground. He was unhurt. Gene Simon in a monoplane fell into Lake Michigan. He was picked up unhurt.

Fails to Provide Wife Wants Divorce

Mary Wood has filed suit for divorce and alimony from Milton Wood, and in the petition Mrs. Wood alleges that her husband is a habitual drunkard, and that he has failed to provide for herself and two small children, one of the children being two years of age, and the other only nine weeks.

Mrs. Wood states that they were married July 15, 1903, in this city, and that her husband has so far failed to provide that it has been necessary for her to live upon the charity of her parents, and that she is now ill and in need of medicine.

She says that upon one occasion her husband threatened to beat her to death, and has often threatened and abused her.

Local Canning Factories Running Full Capacity

Both the Fayette Canning company and the C. E. Sears & Co. plants are now running almost full capacity in canning sweet corn, having commenced operations Thursday.

The Fayette Canning company is employing nearly 200 men, while the C. E. Sears & Co. has over 100 employees, some of the machinery taking the place of dozens of employees, thus cutting the number down far below what it would be if labor-saving machinery had not been installed.

The quality of corn is said to be very satisfactory, although it would have been better if the dry weather had not interfered. Both plants will run for nearly eight weeks, turning out hundreds of thousands of cans of high grade corn.

Wagon loads of corn are coming to the city from all directions, and both canneries are very busy places.

BILLY (SINGLE) CLIFFORD CO.

Billy (Single) Clifford, the star in "The Girl, the Man and the Game," owns a famous hat and a theater. The hat was made for him some years ago when he was with Tony Pastor, and it is as famous behind the footlights as Lillian Russell's beauty. The theater is called the Clifford, and it is in Urbana, O. Every season Mr. Clifford plays his own house, and he always is sure of a great success. Mr. Clifford and his excellent company will be seen at Empire Opera House on Thursday, August 17, where he will reveal his new vehicle of fun and frolic and sing a dozen new songs, aided by a prize beauty chorus gorgeously gowned.

Lightning Strikes Players Bench

sicians were summoned and the injured men were rushed to their homes.

The teams had just started their game when a heavy electrical storm arose. The players and spectators along the side lines mad a rush for the grandstand, which was crowded, while about 10 took shelter on one of the players' benches. These had just reached their shelter when a heavy bolt of lightning struck the edges of the stand, ran down the wire and felled all 10 to the ground.

Guardsmen On The Ranges

Two Ohio Shooters Maintain Honor of Buckeye State.

Camp Perry, O., Aug. 15.—The twenty-ninth annual matches of the National Rifle Association of America have opened, to continue through Aug. 21, the largest program the association has run off since it brought its matches here from Sea Girt, N. J., in 1907, with the national matches.

Two hundred and forty-six sharpshooters took the butts in the initial event, 20 shots at 1,000 yards, which was for the Wimbledon cup, presented by the National Rifle association of Great Britain.

When half the field had fired Captain Guy H. Emerson of Ohio, who won last year with 99, was again in the lead with 98. Lieutenant Colonel C. B. Winder of Ohio, who was second last year, was again second with 98. Emerson was a fraction ahead of Winder.

Those who subscribe after that date are counted as new. A subscription will not be counted as new if it is simply transferred from one member of a family to another.

No employee of the Ohio State Register or Washington Daily Herald will be allowed to participate in this contest as a candidate. Votes cannot be transferred from one candidate to another after they have been cast. In case of a tie, the value of the prize tied for will be equally divided between those tying.

WHERE THE PRIZES WILL GO.

The person who receives the largest number of votes in the entire contest will receive the Schaff Bros' Player Piano. The person who receives the second highest number of votes will receive the H. Link & Son Upright Piano with this restriction, that if the player piano is won in district No. 1, the upright piano must be awarded to the opposite district, or vice versa. In this way one of the grand prizes will be won in Washington and one outside of Washington. After the grand prizes have been awarded, the names of the winners will be stricken from the list and the holders of the first places will then be given the prizes known as District 1st prize. The same plan will be used in awarding the District 2d prizes.

Remember, three prizes will be given to each district, and each and every candidate will receive a square deal. One district will not have the advantage over another. District No. 1 will receive a grand prize and two district prizes. District No. 2 will also receive a grand prize and two district prizes.

Address all communications to the Contest Manager, Register-Herald, Washington C. H., Ohio. See the Contest Manager for instructions and all details of the contest.

DOUBLE VOTES FOR NEW SUBSCRIPTIONS FOR ONE WEEK.

In order to make the contest doubly interesting at the very start we are going to offer Double Votes for every NEW subscription for 10 weeks or longer which any of the contestants or their friends turn into this office up until Thursday evening, August 17, at 5:30 o'clock.

That is to say each NEW subscriber will count double votes if turned in before 5:30 o'clock on Thursday, August 17. If you get a 10-weeks' subscription you will get 1400 votes or just double the regular number. A 6 months' subscription will entitle you to 3600 votes. But renewals for one year count only the regular number of votes. You can see, therefore, that it will pay contestants to hustle NOW for NEW subscribers for 10 weeks, 6 months, a year or longer.

Double votes will be allowed on all subscriptions to The Ohio State Register for one, two or three years or more.

This is the most advantageous offer and is made to encourage contestants to pile up a great big lead in votes at the very beginning. Don't let this opportunity get away from you. Sign the nomination ballot at the lower left hand corner of the big page announcement, or have a friend do it for you. That will give you 500 votes to start with. You are then right in the contest. Fill out the ballot in the other lower corner of the page, and you have 600 votes. Then get right out and find a new subscriber for a 10 weeks and then you will have 2000 votes. Better still, get him for 6 months, and you will have 4200 votes. Don't you see how the votes will pile up?

But the best thing to do, perhaps, after you have signed the nomination ballot is to telephone to the Contest Manager for a receipt book, which will be sent to you by the first mail. And then very soon one of the Contest Men will see you and tell you just how to proceed to get the most votes and win. But keep right ahead getting new subscriptions and give the receipts afterward.

If you do not understand all about the plan, come to The Herald-Register office and you will find gentlemen who will take pleasure in explaining every detail. Let "Hustle" be your motto and never let up till you win.

Bison "The True Hearted Miner" Drama Powers
When a picture or work of art is characterized as having "a punch," it probably has behind it, in the artist, a vivid, emotion giving realization. There is no cloudy sentimentality in this picture; these are human beings, men and women, and whether we approve of them or not; we are compelled to be deeply interested. The drama has a very few scenes and there is very little shown in it that is not significant. It is very convincing.

"SPECULATION" Comedy
"Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford," not the play, but the book, furnished, with little doubt, the idea set forth in this picture; but a clever scenario writer evidently prepared it for being produced. It is not the kind of comedy that amuses by picturing human situations, recognizable as possibilities. The scene where the sharpers come back to town and find that the great scheme they really thought worthless, had panned out big and that the dupes were rich, is decidedly worth while.

Saved by Dropping of Thrown Ball by Kenneth of St. Louis.

Pittsburg, Aug. 15.—Only for the drop of a thrown ball by Kenneth, Pittsburg would have been shut out by St. Louis. ## GOOD PASTURE GRASS

This well-known grass is found in most parts of North America. It was introduced into cultivation from Europe, but was probably native in the northern areas of this country as well. It thrives best in moist soils, and while valuable as a hay grass, its greatest usefulness is as a pasture grass, especially when grown with other kinds. It yields an abundance of smooth soft stems and leaves which give a rather light weight hay. In rich, moist soils it becomes two to three feet high, but in dry situations it is much shorter. The open, spreading head is usually reddish or purplish in color when young, but becomes green or pale when older.

My AEROPLANE ADVENTURES

By J. ARMSTRONG DREXEL

VI.—When a Man Takes to Flying

[Copyright, 1911, by Henry M. Neely. Copyright in Great Britain and Canada. All rights reserved.]

TO the man on the ground flying in an aeroplane looks like the smoothest sailing in the world. Under ordinarily favorable weather conditions the air craft seems to skim along on a perfectly even keel and without the slightest deviation from a straight line, and that is possibly one reason why the average man thinks that the life of the aviator must be one constant succession of pleasant and exhilarating experiences. Air conditions 500 feet from the earth are vastly different from those 5,000 feet up. The lower layers of the atmosphere are enticingly smooth and easy to sail upon and offer none of the unpleasant surprises which we get as we go higher and higher. There is nothing in the first 500 or 1,000 feet to look out for except the vagaries of the wind, and these can usually be pretty well forecast from the indications on the ground before starting and from the conditions met in the first few minutes of flight.

But up above that, in the realm of the scudding mists and the drifting fringes of clouds, where one dashes out of a warm air current into the coolness of suspended moisture, one meets surprise after surprise and is forced to be always on the alert, with brain calm and hands and body ready for instant action at the first sign of an aerial bilboet or ravine.

"Bumping the Bumps" in the Air.

Have you ever on a warm summer's evening gone to a pleasure resort, paid your nickel or 10 cents through a little est flight with the "bumps" in the air. The weather was ideal for climbing. It was cold, but the air was fairly still, and the first few thousand feet of my ascent were made smoothly and without much difficulty in a steady rise that was almost mechanical in its exactness.

The barograph record is interesting in showing the progress of this flight. For those who do not know it may be well to explain that the barograph is an instrument which registers altitude, and by means of a pen point filled with indelible ink it records the variation in a constant line on a piece of paper which is moved around by clock-work.

Story Told by Barograph.

This barograph record shows that in the first fifteen minutes I rose to a height of 4,500 feet. The increasing difficulties of the climb are indicated by the fact that at the end of the next fifteen minutes I was only about 7,700 feet high, but the line traced by the pen up to this point is fairly steady, and only when it passes the 7,000 foot mark does it begin to waver. It was during this part of my flight that the strain began to tell upon me and the steadiness of my climb was interrupted by frequent descents.

In the next few minutes I got myself together better, for the line shows a sudden jump of nearly a thousand feet in about five minutes, and then it is plain to be seen that my troubles began, for the line from 8,700 feet, to the topmost limit, which was gratifyingly close to the 10,000 mark, is little more than a blur. It shows that the pen point was vacillating up and

At the shrieking heads of the air. The wind screamed past my ears. Maddening shreds seemed to whip into my eyes with knife edges that sometimes seemed as though they were cutting into the flesh. Every square inch of my body felt as though it were being gripped by unseen hands that were literally lifting me from my seat, so great was the pressure of the air as I rushed through it. I had to hold my breath and shut my eyes, for it was impossible to inhale in the terrific rush of the wind past my mouth, and to have held the eyes open would be to have courted blindness, temporary at least.

When I turned upward I went at an angle little short of suicidal. Had anything failed, it would have been impossible for me to get the machine on an even keel and head her downward. There would have been no alternative but a backward drop to inevitable and awful destruction.

For about twelve minutes, as shown by the barograph record, I continued this desperate means of attaining my goal. Finally I looked at my barograph and saw, as I thought, that the needle had reached the 10,000 mark. I thought of nothing then but of ending the strain and getting to earth again as quickly as possible. So I headed her downward and dropped at such terrific speed that the indelible ink in the pen point could not flow fast enough to make a mark, and my barograph record shows no trace whatever of my descent. It is for this reason that I doubt whether any human being ever lived through such a fall, for I know of no other barograph record on which the same conditions can be found.

The first part of this upward climb was smooth and easy, with one exception. That exception, which illustrated another phase of the rough riding in the air—of bumping the aerial bumps—came as I burst through the clouds and into the sunlight above.

Here we always expect to find gusty winds. The clouds seem to have the effect of breaking up air currents, just as hills and valleys will do on the earth, and the change of temperature from the cool moisture of the mist to the dry heat of the direct sunlight has a tendency to create whirlpools and vortices that are mighty nasty things to fight in an aeroplane.

Holes in the Air.

Still another phase of aerial rough riding is due to the holes in the air. I have heard a great many people ridicule this expression, and they have been surprised when I have asserted that these "holes" really do exist and that they are a constant menace to the aviator.

I met them first very early in my experience when I began practicing altitude flying at my private grounds at Beaulieu, in England. My first experience with them was a complete surprise to me. I was flying comfortably and easily at a height of about 3,000 feet. It was toward sunset, on a perfectly calm summer afternoon, and not a breath had disturbed me from the time I had left the earth.

So smoothly had my climb gone on that I had relaxed my vigilance and was sitting back comfortably, really enjoying the flight, when suddenly the Bleriot seemed to drop from under me and I felt myself falling straight for the earth. For a hundred feet or more, I should say, we fell, and then the Bleriot landed on a cushion of air and I landed on the seat of the Bleriot with a bump that jarred me.

Fortunately I was headed slightly downward at the time and was able to recover my equilibrium, but the shock of the surprise was sufficient for one day of flying for such a novice as I was at that time, and I came to earth at once.

When Glenn Curtiss made his famous flight from Albany to New York he was several times almost thrown from his seat by these sudden drops through "holes" in the air. So serious an impression did it make upon his mind that, I am told, he has since had the back of his seat made with little curved metal braces that go over his shoulders and hold him firmly down upon his chair.

Must Watch Constantly.

The philosophy of the hole in the air?

It seems that many conditions of sun, clouds and earth will bring about different conditions of air over practically the same locality. In one place there will be a rising warm current and next to it a cold current that falls toward the ground. An aviator in flying through the warm current adjusts his machine and his mind to the conditions met with in that particular phase of atmosphere. Suddenly he passes from this rising current to the falling cold air. Instantly the sustaining power of the atmosphere is decreased, the machine plunges downward and continues to plunge until the aviator recovers himself sufficiently to adjust his machine to the changed conditions met with in the atmosphere of lower temperature. So, too, there are whirlwinds and vortices formed and sometimes between the warm and cold currents pockets of extremely rarefied air that offer practically no support for a flying machine. These things are, as I have said, usually met only by the men who fly very high above the earth.

Still, the man who flies close to the ground will frequently encounter hills and valleys in the air, not so great nor so suddenly presented as these "bumps" and "holes" that I have described, but yet unpleasant and disconcerting enough to put his nerves on edge and give him an uncomfortable sensation for days afterward.

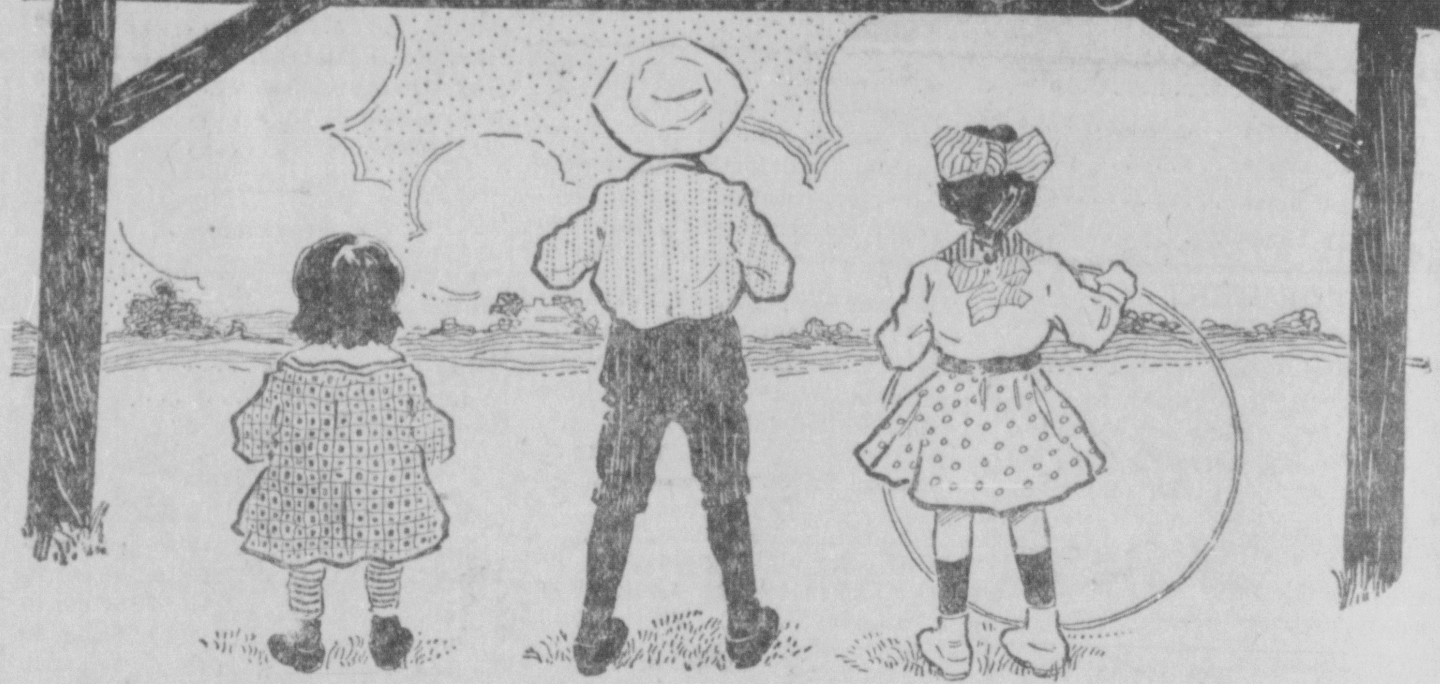

No flying is not the smoothest and easiest kind of traveling, especially when there is "rough riding" to be done, when there are aerial "bumps" to be "bumped."

The inquisitive visitor to the studio of the famous but crochety artist propounded the query: "What do you mix your colors with?"
"With brains, sir," replied the painter in dignified tones.
"Ah," commented the visitor, "so you paint miniatures."

Too Much For Him.

"How true that old saying is about a child asking questions that a man cannot answer," remarked Popleigh.

"What's the trouble now?" queried his friend Singleton.

"This morning," replied Popleigh, "my little boy asked me why men were sent to congress and I couldn't tell him."

He Had Hopes.

"Anyway," said the amateur poultry raiser, "if I don't make anything at the game, I have hopes that my hens will soon be self-supporting."
"How do you figure that?" queried the gentleman from Missouri.

"HAD ANYTHING FAILED THERE WOULD HAVE BEEN NO ALTERNATIVE BUT A BACKWARD DROP TO AWFUL DESTRUCTION."

box office window, got into a little car with six or seven other persons and for several minutes thereafter coasted up and down a series of artificial hills and valleys at a thrilling speed? In other words, have you ever tasted of the excitement of "bumping the bumps"? Well, "bumping the bumps" is just what we do when we climb for height; we engage in aerial rough riding. Sometimes we do it voluntarily, but most of the time the "bump" comes with the complete and sudden surprise that spells disaster for us unless we are on the alert to cope with its difficulties.

I think I may claim without boasting that I have done more altitude work than any man now living. Twice I have set the world's height mark, but in my practice work I have made several climbs which to me were even more notable than those which were officially recorded, and on at least two of these my barograph registered higher than the then world's record figures. I was preparing myself for work that should be officially recorded in open competition, and in this preparation I have had experiences with the "bumps" of the air which I shall not soon forget and which have taught me always to expect the unexpected in the upper strata of the atmosphere. As I write I have before me several barograph records of my various flights and the thin tracing of the pen points on one or two of them recalls to my mind the experiences through which I passed while making them, and one in particular I pick out as being a souvenir of as strenuous a day's work as I have ever done.

It was a little jaunt into the heart of the heavens, made because of my long cherished desire to go up to the 10,000 foot mark, and it gave me my hard-down and up and down, and I shall not soon forget the plunges and jumps—the bumping the bumps—the rough riding—that caused this line to take such an appearance.

I had set out to make 10,000 feet, and when I was sure that I must be somewhere near there I looked at my barograph and found that it registered nearly a thousand feet short of my mark. I had almost reached the limit of my strength. It seemed impossible to make the Bleriot climb any higher, yet I shoved her nose up at an angle that threatened destruction if anything went wrong, but the motor only spat protestingly and dragged her forward horizontally without seeming to pull her up an inch.

I decided to see what an increase of speed would do. Accordingly I headed the nose of the Bleriot downward, and, with the engine running at its utmost, I took a deep plunge into the space below and kept plunging until my speed must have been somewhere near 100 miles an hour. Then, with this tremendous impetus, I headed the machine upward again at a good angle and was rejoiced to find that I not only climbed above my starting point, but that the propeller seemed able to hold me there without difficulty.

Time after time I tried this extremely dangerous expedient, and at the end of each rise I found myself a little higher than I had been before, and, best of all, I found that I was able to hold the advantage thus gained.

Attended by Shrieking Fiends.

I cannot explain adequately just what a tremendous impression was made upon me by these aerial hurdles. On the downward slope I seemed to be hurtling madly into eternity, catapulted toward the earth and attended by
